IMPROVING THE GATEWAY TO STRATFORD-UPON-AVON

Views from around Stratford-upon-Avon

Welcome

Welcome to this exhibition, which details Redrow's proposals to redevelop the former cattle market site next to Stratford railway station. Redrow acquired the site in 2007 with the benefit of full planning permission. A revised scheme has since been prepared to deliver a more traditional scheme that better reflects Stratford-upon-Avon's local architecture, creating a gateway to the historic town.

The revised scheme will deliver a long-awaited bus/rail interchange for the town. However, the number of housing units for the site has been reduced - there will be fewer apartments and more family homes.

Redrow believes that consulting the community at an early stage is an important part of involving the local community in decision-making. We recognise that the scheme should aim to meet the aspirations of local people and visitors to the town.

We would like to invite you to consider the information presented today and let us know what you think. Members of the project team are on hand to answer your questions, so please do not hesitate to ask for more information.

Questionnaires are also available for you to fill out. We would be grateful if you could take the time to complete one on your way out, as this allows us to better understand local opinion and where appropriate, to amend the scheme in light of what we have learnt.
